Who are we?

Adriatic2Alps Photography Tours is a company specializing in small group photographic tours of Slovenia and the Adriatic region.

Between us we have 40 years in the tourism industry. However what makes us unique is that we are also award-winning professional photographers with a cross range of photographic specializations.

Adriatic2Alps is officially licensed by the Chamber of Commerce and Industry of Slovenia and bound by strict standards in Slovenia and the European Union. We are also part of Zdrana Marela, an award-winning company founded in 2004 and specializing in organizing programs, events and activities which integrate rich Slovenian cultural heritage and tourism, creating unique experience for visiting tourists.

We are based in Ljubljana, Slovenia which links the Adriatic Sea with the Alps thus representing an ideal starting point for the whole region.

What do people say about us

"Just wanted to send you a note to let you know how much I enjoyed the trip to the Soča Valley...and actually every day I spent in Slovenia was truly amazing. I learned quite a bit (thanks Dan as well). I was afraid to mess with any of the settings on my camera prior to our meeting. During the rest of my vacation, I was playing with the camera quite a bit."

Jami Scott
Hobron, KY.

"I really appreciated Luka's knowledge of the area and his passion for photography. It is great to have a guide who understands the importance of lighting and willing to get up early to capture the morning lighting. Without his guidance there were many great shots that I would not have captured. Thanks for a great trip and hope to meet you again in the future."

Andrew King
Ireland.

"My husband and I were very interested in photography and Luka suggested great places to get just the right shot, brought an extra tripod for my husband and allowed us ample time to take gorgeous photos. We especially enjoyed visiting the Istria region and the custom buffle hunt and wine tasting he arranged. We would definitely use him again."
